LENROOT AND DARROW ARGUE WORLD COURT

Badger Debating Before Student Conference Predicts Success in Senate

CHICAGO LAWYER SCOFFS

Senator Reiterates His Convictions at National Republican Club Today

Princeton, N. J.—Marked by the prediction Friday night of Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin that the senate would approve American entrance into the world court next February with a favorable vote of 70 to 75, the National Collegiate World Court conference at Princeton university is continuing its deliberations Saturday.

Representatives of 215 educational institutions, seek to formulate a representative undergraduate opinion on American entry into the court.

At the opening session the delegates heard Senator Lenroot and Clarence Darrow, Chicago attorney, debate.

Senator Lenroot said if the United States entered the court, the only obligation it would incur would be the payment of $25,000 a year towards its expenses. The step, he said, "would give endorsement and encouragement of the most powerful nation of the world to an instrument for world peace."

The limitations of the court, he said, would prevent its passing on questions involving the Monroe doctrine or other matters touching on the sovereignty of the United States without the nation's consent.

NOT WORTH FUSS
Senator Lenroot's prediction as to the action of the senate was made in a statement after the debate.

Mr. Darrow said that he did not think the world court worthy of the "fuss being made over it." He asserted that it had no power to enforce its decrees and that it was a step toward entrance into the League of Nations. While the nations of the world are talking peace, he said, they are spending five or six billions on armaments.

"Measure your $5,000,000,000 against the $25,000 which they would have us put in the jackpot," he added, "and which do you suppose would win?"

As what he regarded as some of the causes of war, Mr. Darrow named "blustering super-patriotism, Rotary club patriotism bragging about your money and your trade and saying 'America is good enough for me.'"

"If we teach men and nations to love instead of hate there would be no war," he concluded.

HAS LIMITATIONS

New York (AP)—Confidence that the necessary two-thirds majority of the senate will vote for American admission to the world court was expressed here Saturday before the national Republican club by Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, a Republican member of the senate foreign relations committee.

"Because we will thereby give the endorsement and encouragement of the most powerful court, the small and weak nations of the earth must submit to the decision of disputes by political representations of powerful nations or fight. There is no forum of justice in which their cases may be tried."

The senator declared that the League of Nations had no power to give life to the court and that the court never would have come into being by the action of the league.

"Forty-eight nations adhered to the protocol establishing the court," he declared, "and it is their action and theirs alone that has vitalized it into existence."

NOT CONTROLLED

"The court under the statute is connected with the league in but three ways: 'The election of judges; the fixing and payment of their salaries and other expenses of the court; and the right of the counsel of the league to determine under what conditions the court shall be open to nations not members of the league and not named in the annex to the covenant.'"

Poling out that the court had refused to accede to a request of the league council that it render an advisory opinion in a dispute between Poland and Russia, the Wisconsin senator argued that this conclusively shows that the court "is in no sense the agent or instrument of the league, but is an absolutely independent body."

"The court could never pass upon the Monroe doctrine, immigration, the settlement of foreign debts or any other question affecting our rights and interests without our consent."

SMITH RELEASES POLITICAL FOE FROM SING SING

Pardons Anarchist, One Time Mayoral and Vice Presidential Candidate

Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—Benjamin Gitlow, Communist, who has served time in Sing Sing for advocating the overthrow of the government by force, has been pardoned by Governor Smith.

Convicted in 1920 for violation of the state criminal anarchy act, Gitlow has waged an incessant struggle for freedom. Five times in the five years of his incarceration he was released when his appeal from the conviction reached various stages.

When the United States supreme court sustained his conviction this year, he went back to Sing Sing again. Three times in the five years he was candidate for political office once for mayor of New York on a Communist ticket and the second time for congressman for the "Workingmen's league." In 1924 he was vice presidential candidate for the Workers Party of America.

Gitlow published in a radical magazine a manifesto by the left wing of the Socialist party which the state charged advocated the overthrow of the government by force.

The governor, in granting the pardon Friday left no doubt that he was convinced of Gitlow's guilt. The only question, the governor said, was "whether or not he has been sufficiently punished for a political crime."

President Feels U. S. Should Fall In With Europe Peace Efforts

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1925, by Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—There is to be a determined drive against war at this session of congress, and President Coolidge and his cabinet are taking their initiative in the movement.

Secretary Mellon's disclosure that 80 per cent of government expenditures go toward paying the costs of past wars and preparation for future conflict is the forerunner of the economic arguments.

Mr. Coolidge opposes further increases in the national defense budget for economy reasons and contends for disarmament. He recognizes that the cry of "foreign entanglements" has hurt every proposal for joining with other countries to prevent war. The world court protocol is being fought on that theory. Now the entire ammunition of the administration is being directed against the opponents of international cooperation.

When Mr. Mellon says that the facts about government expenses for war purposes "should be faced squarely by those who clamor for reduced government expenditures and at the same time oppose the world's effort to devise rational methods for dealing with international questions," he states the whole case for the Coolidge administration.

The president is very much impressed with what Europe has done with the Locarno treaties. He feels that an atmosphere of peacemaking has come over Europe at last and that America must not stand aloof and go on with war preparations that might be misconstrued. Also, the League of Nations has sent an invitation to the United States to participate in the next disarmament conference. Mr. Coolidge wants to accept that invitation but he doesn't want to introduce another element into the controversy going on just now with reference to American entry into the world court.

So it is likely that an interval may elapse before a decision is reached. This interval may be occupied in determining the legal questions involved for Mr. Coolidge has hinted that he wants cleared up the point raised by Senator Hiram Johnson of California with reference to American participation in the Paris conference which settled the Dawes annuities. Mr. Coolidge wants to know if the hands of the executive are tied or whether he can go ahead without the consent of congress and accept the invitation.

Senator Johnson claimed that reservations which were made part of the treaty of Berlin whereby Germany and the United States restored friendly relations specifically said that America was not to take in any commission under the terms of the League of Nations covenant or any other part of the Versailles treaty without the consent of congress. What the treaty of Berlin really stipulated was that the United States "was not bound" by any provisions of the covenant or the acts of any commission established under the covenant unless consent were given by congress.

Mr. Coolidge takes the position that the United States cannot be bound anyhow in any international agreement without the consent of two-thirds of the senate. Also, a reservation in a treaty between the United States and foreign power is not an amendment to the constitution which gives the president the power to conduct foreign relations. He always has had the power to appoint, ambassadors and special envoys to take part in international conferences and does not require the consent of congress to do so. The only consent required is when an agreement is ready for congressional ratification.

Nevertheless Mr. Coolidge may take the precaution of asking the attorney general for a legal opinion so that all doubts may be resolved in advance.

CHICAGO LIKES ENGLISH OPERA

"Namiko San" Sung in English by Chicago Opera Company Wins Approval

Chicago (AP)—Artists of four major nations contributed to the success of the new opera in English, "Namiko San" which won popular approval in its world premiere Friday night. The story by Leo Duran, Franco-American, is founded on a tragic romance of Japanese origin. Aldo Franchetti, naturalized American of Italian descent, wrote the score. Tamaki Miura, diminutive Japanese prima donna, created the title role and an American institution, the Chicago Civic Opera company, staged the work.

It was the first opera in English to be presented here this season, but is a forerunner of at least two others, one of which, W. Frank Harling's "Light From St. Aeneas" with libretto by Minnie Madden Fiske, not only has English words, but a distinctly American score in which the "blue" notes of the saxophone will be heard.

America's native musical history also was added to Friday with the presentation at St. Louis of the symphonic poem, "Sargasso," by Edward F. Schneider, San Francisco composer, and a native of Omaha, Neb. The St. Louis Symphony orchestra played the work, with Rudolph Ganz directing.

PICK GUARDSMEN TO STOP HOLDUP

Ten Members of Monroe Militia Deputized to Keep Look-out for Robbers

Monroe (AP)—A picked force of the local National guard unit is being organized to fight bank robbers. Captain Charles A. Schindler of Company K, announced that bandits invading Monroe would be greeted by 10 marksmen of the company.

He said the action was prompted by reports of many bank robberies and the nearby "wild west" looting of a bank at Shullsburg last summer. He has received sanction of Adjutant General Ralph Immell to have 10 militiamen deputized by Sheriff M. C. Durrst, he said.

A system of notification in emergency is being worked out and each vigilante will have access to army rifles.

Posts of duty in roof tops to command the business section are being assigned. Hunters also have volunteered their services in case of emergency.

RACINE NEGRO SLAVE AND WAR VET DIES

Racine (AP)—Peter D. Thomas, colored, Civil war veteran born in slavery in 1847, was asphyxiated in his home, 1119 Centen-st, late Friday night.

His unconscious and partly burned form was discovered by neighbors, lying on the rug of a pipeless furnace. His aged wife was also overcome by the escaping gas, but was resuscitated.

Thomas was born near Island, No. 10, one of the strongholds of the confederacy and witnessed the fall of the several forts on the Island. He tried to enlist in the Union army at that time but was refused permission to serve. Later, however, after returning to Beloit with Lieut. Charles B. Nelson, who was wounded and whose servant he was, he was given permission to enter the war with the Union forces.

He enlisted in the fifteenth Wisconsin infantry and served during the war. He was elected coroner of Racine, Wis. at one time and held many positions of trust here.

LOCAL WATER POWER USERS LOSE IN SUIT

Court Rules Recapture Clause Constitutional in Appleton Dam Case

Madison (AP)—The recapture clause of the state waterpower act was declared constitutional by Judge E. Ray Stevens, in Dane-co circuit court Saturday.

Judge Stevens ruled that the rights of a riparian owner to the water-power facilities of a stream are subordinate to those of the public and that the legislature has a right to provide for regulation of dams and other matters affecting the flow of streams, through the railroad commission.

The court overruled a demurrer by the Fox River Paper Co. of Appleton and three other concerns to the answer of the railroad commission in a case involving the rebuilding of a dam in the Fox river. The decision in effect sustains the contention of the railroad commission that its permission must be obtained for the building or rebuilding of a dam.

According to reports received at Broad-st station, the tracks at that point were flooded, the water pouring down into the East river drive of Fairmount park.

MILWAUKEE WOMAN ENDS LIFE WITH GAS

Milwaukee—Mrs. William A. Banse who had been in ill health for some time, killed herself by turning on the gas in a closet room at her home Friday night. She pinned a note on the door telling her daughter to go to the home of a relative until her father called. The woman's husband found her body.

$3,000 Is Needed To Keep City's Poor Alive

Whether Christmas will be a day of brightness or of sorrow to the 200 families receiving help from the four charitable societies working through Appleton Welfare council will depend entirely upon the Good Fellows of Appleton. If they do not respond in large numbers to the piteous appeal of the unfortunate families who cannot help themselves Christmas will be a mockery and a sham to the youngsters denied even the barest comforts of life.

Unless one takes the time to investigate the way in which some of our families are obliged to live it is impossible to visualize the suffering and misfortune which is the lot of these people. They not only lack all the comforts of life but many of the barest necessities. A good deal of publicity has been given to the meagre meals eaten by the orphans of Armenia, but their fare is not one whit worse than the daily "menu" of Appleton's needy. In fact many a time relief workers have gone into homes and found that there was not even a crust of bread in the whole house.

Only recently relief workers found a widow and her two children shivering in their hovel of a home without a piece of fuel or an ounce of food in the place. The mother was too proud to ask for help and too ill and to weak to work. In all probability the family would have starved if a neighbor had not noted their plight and called the attention of the welfare workers to them.

There are a lot of these kind of families in the city. A lot of money is required to provide them with enough to keep them alive, let alone give them any comforts. The women are doing a remarkable work on $3,000 a year. Every cent of that much money is required.

For several years the money has been provided, at least in part, by the Good Fellows. This year they must not be laggard. The annual campaign for Good Fellow club members will end in less than two weeks and in that time about $2,700 must be raised. Clip the coupon printed on another page of this paper and send it with your "membership fee" to the Good Fellows club editor of The Post-Crescent.

LEAGUE SENDS U. S. BID TO ARMS PARLEY

Invitation to Help Arrange Conference Issued from Geneva Friday Night

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Should the invitation issued from the council of the league of Nations Saturday for American participation in the arms limitation discussions at Geneva be found acceptable by the administration, such a conclusion, it is expected, would go only so far as a recommendation to be passed upon finally by congress.

President Coolidge meanwhile is forming no definite opinion upon the question until he has had full opportunity to study the text of the invitation for the United States to join in the work of the special committee to prepare for the convocation of an international arms conference.

The invitation to the United States with almost identical ones to Germany and Russia was reported in Geneva dispatches to have been agreed upon in final text at a secret session of the council Friday night and made ready for dispatch Saturday.

The invitation to the United States was understood from unofficial sources in Geneva to include a definite outline of the scope of the study to be submitted to the preparatory committee.

This is expected here to enable President Coolidge to form a clear conception of the aims and proposed methods of the undertaking as basis for an opinion whether it is possible or desirable for the United States to take part either in the preliminary work or the conference itself.

FINED UNDER NEW GAS SALE RULE

Beloit Gasoline Dealer First Man to Pay Penalty for Illegal Transaction

Madison (AP)—The first conviction of a gasoline dealer for alleged violation of the price publicity order has been obtained by the Wisconsin department of markets.

Fred E. Buckeridge of Beloit was convicted and fined for alleged violation of the department's regulation to prevent the sale of gasoline at other than the posted price. The company headed by Mr. Buckeridge sold gasoline to a taxicab company at a cash price of two cents a gallon below the price posted for the ordinary retail customer, the department charged.

George A. Garrigan, assistant district attorney of Rock-co, recommended a light fine in view of the case being the first to be brought under the regulation. It was announced that the case was intended as a warning to all companies throughout the state that further violations would be prosecuted. The maximum penalty is a fine of $5,000 or one year imprisonment, or both.

"The regulation does not prohibit the oil companies giving a special price to taxicabs or to any other class of buyers," the department stated. "It requires that whenever prices are given they shall be posted so that the ordinary car owner may know how the oil company deals with his trade."

COLUMBIA STANDS PAT THAT ROCKNE IS HIRED

New York (AP)—James R. Knapp, chairman of the football committee of Columbia university, said Saturday that Columbia "stands pat" behind its original statement of Friday night announcing that Knute Rockne of Notre Dame had signed a three-year contract as head football coach at Columbia.

Reynolds Benson, graduate manager of athletics at Columbia, backed James R. Knapp in his statement that Rockne had been definitely engaged.

The Columbia university athletic committee met at the Columbia club Saturday with officials of Notre Dame Alumni association in an endeavor to clarify the situation involving the reported signing of Rockne. The officials announced that a statement would be issued at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon which would clear the atmosphere.

Whether or not Rockne attended the meeting was not revealed but it is known that he will hold a conference with Notre Dame officials before the statement is made.

CHARGES BADGER FIRM WAS LET OFF ON TAXES

Senate Committee Hears Government Lost $174,000 on Case Threshing Co.

Washington (AP)—The internal revenue bureau is charged by L. C. Manson, counsel for the senate investigating committee with having permitted J. I. Case Threshing Machine Co., Racine, Wis., too great allowance on war amortization with resulting loss to government of $174,000 in taxes.

Manson's statement to the committee contained in official records submitted to senate and made public was that the original amortization allowance of $131,922 in this case was in accord with opinion of solicitor of bureau, that the income tax unit had to determine amortization on each of the war time facilities of company rather than by lumping them.

After engineers of the unit had allowed amortization up to $131,922, the company presented an amended claim for $486,778 and Manson says the bureau then allowed amortization deductions of $350,857. Manson took the position that this was an excess amortization allowance of at least $218,000 for the years 1918 and 1919 and that the tax on this sum would have been $174,000. The record of the committee shows this case present solicitor of the bureau, agreed it should be investigated further.

Chicago, Ill. (AP)—John Sovetsky, a tailor known as the "millionaire fence," under sentence on a charge of receiving stolen property, will carry his fight for freedom to the supreme court, it was revealed Saturday when his attorney requested a continuance in the hearing of a motion for a new trial to permit filing a bond.

The hearing was set for next Monday when Judge M. L. McKinley indicated a new trial will be denied. Sovetsky was convicted of receiving $2,500 worth of stolen property belonging to a Chicago clothing store, and was sentenced to from one to ten years in the penitentiary.

Stolen clothing valued at $50,000, some of it identified as part of the loot obtained in a Green Bay, Wis., warehouse robbery was recovered in a raid on Sovetsky's place.

U. S. Army Officer Tries to Send Relief Train With Food to Passengers

Peking (AP)—Twenty American and several British passengers on the international train which left Peking for Tientsin Friday were caught in the midst of a battle between the troops of Feng Yu Hsiang and Chang Tse Lin near Yanstun, north of Tientsin, Friday night.

The train also carried 50 Italian marines on their way to the coast after doing guard duty in the capital. The passengers included some women and children are reported to have lain between tracks to avoid the Chinese shells.

During the night the train was sent back to Lang Pang. A truck load of provisions has arrived there, and it is presumed the passengers are comfortable, although temporarily out of communication with Peking. It is not known whether the train will return to the capital or attempt to get through to Tientsin.

A battle was taking place Saturday at Tientsin Saturday morning between Tientsin and Peking, a few miles north.

Major William D. Connor, the American commandant in Tientsin, is reported to be trying to get a relief train through with food to convey the passengers to their destination.

Lang Pang to which the train was withdrawn is outside the present battle zone. It is reported that there were no casualties among the Americans or other foreigners.

READER COMING HERE WEDNESDAY

Comedy, "A Little Journey," Will Be Given by Emma Blaine McKendry

Rachel Crother's comedy, "A Little Journey," will be presented at 8:15 Wednesday evening at Lawrence Memorial chapel by Emma Blaine McKendry, dramatic interpreter. She comes here as the third number of the American Legion auxiliary's artist concert. Tickets are on sale at Delling drug store.

Miss McKendry is serving on the faculty of the Northwestern university of speech. Her well known ability as a dramatic reader comes partly from the fact that she descends from a long line of actors dating back to Earl Bolt, who possessed a great castle in England and there produced many plays. Her mother was well known in the theatrical world.

It was the intention of Miss McKendry to take up the practice of law but after four years of preparation she gave it up because the artistic work held a stronger appeal. She took up the study of dramatics and received her degree in dramatic interpretation after a year of postgraduate work at Northwestern university. She made a decided impression recently by playing the leading role in a revival of "The Truth About Blayds," played at Victoria theater, Chicago. Alexandra Carlisle played the same part when the play was staged in New York, and was a guest at Emma McKendry's opening performance in Chicago.

Her appearance here gives Appleton a variation of entertainment. The American legion is assisting in the ticket sale and the proceeds of the course are to be used for the welfare of war veterans.

SIMPLE FROCK TRIMMED WITH DOUBLE CUFFS

The simple twist of the wrist has been supplanted by the complicated twist of the cuff, deep gauntlet cuffs which may be either doubled back over the forearm or allowed to drop almost to the finger tips. The sleeve where the gauntlet begins is gathered tightly about the wrist with a strap or elastic band. One of the newest cuff designs is of pink cloth embroidered in medieval designs in black and lined with seal skin. When folded back they show the seal skin, and when allowed to drop over the fingers the embroidery is displayed.

USE TAPESTRY TO DECORATE WALL SPACE

A favorite and attractive way to decorate a wall space is to use a lovely bit of tapestry, woven or made of needle-point in place of the usual framed picture. And since the vogue for these beautiful panels has been revived, new ideas concerning their making have grown until, if one is not disposed to take time for fine peddle work, they may be made something after the old hooked rug method, by using yarn in colors to work out the desired design. This is a quick and easy method that makes it all the more attractive to women who wish to accomplish the artistic in the least possible time. Requiring serious effort and yet not so difficult as to prohibit attempt by the amateur, a batik panel will satisfy the most artistic requirements. Such a bit of wall decoration above a table, desk or sofa, made in colors to harmonize with, or to match, those in the draperies will add a very distinctive touch to the furnishings of the room.

DOESN'T EXPECT LOCAL BREWERY TO CLOSE DOWN

Plant Here Has Complied With Laws and New Permit Is Anticipated

George Walters Brewing Co. does not expect to close pending the issuing of 1926 permits for the manufacture of beer as perhaps will be the case with institutions of other cities. An announcement issued by E. C. Yellowley, federal prohibition director in the Chicago area, indicated that all would have to cease operations Jan. 1 and could not resume until new conditions have been complied with.

"So far as I can learn at this time we will not have to shut down our plant," said Nie Dohr, manager. "Our brewery has been inspected several times by federal prohibition officers and each report has shown that we were complying fully with the law. On the basis of these inspections we have been supplied with application blanks for our 1926 permit. We were told that breweries that are violating the law would not be supplied with blanks and would have to submit to investigation first."

"Our application for a permit has been filed and we intend to keep operating as usual unless we get orders in the meantime along the lines of what was in the newspapers. We have kept our record clear so we are sure of being given the right to continue."

Mr. Dohr declared that his company has considered the advisability of closing down several times because the plant has been losing money ever since prohibition went into effect. The company is debating even now what future course to pursue, as an expense of several hundred dollars will be involved to make changes and prepare drawings of the plant and all that work at least in a few particular cases like the object after which it is patterned.

Soon Christmas will be here and Santa Claus will be coming with loads of toys and presents for the little folks. Children are busy writing letters asking for gifts they want. little daughter creeps down the stairs so softly to see what Santa has left her wouldn't she be delighted to see a nice big baby doll with real eyelashes and curls—one that says "mama." And she'd be even more happy if she found a miniature baby buggy to ride her baby around in and a cradle or bed in which to lay her when asleep. The new beds are made exactly like real ones, springs, mattresses, castors and all. Big dolls and little dolls, baby dolls and mamma dolls, every kind, can be found. There are miniature tea tables and chairs, kitchen sets, ice boxes, kitchen cabinets, dishes, everything to furnish the play room for daughter. All sorts of aluminum ware, percolators, double-boilers, saucepans, just the kind mother use would surely make any little girl happy. Little China dishes, painted in gay designs may be obtained and there are painted crockery or granite dishes.

Baking sets with flour, salt, baking soda, cake and pie tins, bread pans, rolling pin and a cook book would make Jane feel very much like a "little mother."

Then there are cedar chests for dolls' clothes, just like the kind big sister has for her "hopsie chest," only smaller. All sorts of toys suitable for little brother and sister have been put on display by old Santa. Toys, that wind up, toys that you push and toys that you pull—just toys, toys, toys of every description, and make.

Games are always included on the children's list to Santa Claus. One of the newest games is called Radio which would be a great help to little son in learning where all the stations are located. Then there are indoor golf games, all sorts of card games, including pit, pegity, rook and many others. Circus games, fish ponds, animal games and painting books are always welcomed by the little ones.

The question was: "Should the United States enter into cooperation with other nations in a world court of international relations with such reservations as shall seem wise to the president and congress?" The vote was 375 in favor and 66 opposed.

The list to whom the letter was addressed included President Coolidge, Senators I. L. Lenroot and R. M. La Follette, Jr., Senator Borah who is

It is a fact that only about one person out of three enjoys good health. That occasional headache; that tired, exhausted feeling, loss of appetite, the casual cold—all these are danger signals you should heed. Nature is warning you of impending sickness. RUBBER STAMP IS TIME SAVER FOR MERCHANTS

Saves Time Required for Indorsing Checks and Invoices, Harriman Says

One of the greatest time savers for merchants, bankers, and bill collectors is a supply of rubber stamps. Hours of time are wasted every week by pulling out a fountain pen, opening it, and tediously writing out "paid" with the date of payment on every bill or in scrawling out a concursive endorsement on a check or note where in either case a rubber stamp would save time and labor. John Harriman, one of the proprietors of the Appleton Radio Shop at 118 S. Appleton-st., manufactures rubber stamps and stamps supplies, and this is the only place in the Fox River valley where such articles are made. Prices for Harriman's rubber stamps are lower than those made in Milwaukee and Chicago.

Some people have been under the impression that the Harriman concern only took orders for rubber stamps, not knowing that these stamps of every style and description are distinctly an Appleton product. Mr. Harriman has cut out a large number of rubber stamps for Wisconsin banks, mail order houses, and for stationery and office supply stores in Appleton. An especially large business is done in bank indorsement stamps.

One of the most popular stamps manufactured by Mr. Harriman is the pocket stamp, ideal for bill collectors, delivery men, students, and insurance men. This stamp is a small affair combined with an ink pad that will easily fit into any pocket. One Appleton coal dealer has supplied all his delivery men with such a stamp, so that when they collect cash for a coal delivery they can immediately stamp the invoice as paid. High school and college students also find this little rubber pocket stamp very handy for putting their names in their books, or on themes and compositions. Every bill collector, of course, should have one.

In addition to his rubber stamp business and his agency for Kennedy radio sets and equipment, Mr. Harriman is starting a multigraphing service in which direct mail advertising will be a specialty. A complete service in direct mail advertising will be given, which includes planning the advertisement, printing it and mailing it out. In the multigraphing department, social letters, business letters, lodge and fraternal notices will receive equally high grade and efficient service, and attention as the mail advertising matter.

Mr. Harriman has moved into the new and modern shop at 118 S. Appleton-st. very recently. He formerly was located in the building on E. College-ave. now occupied by the Valley Sign Co. The new telephone number is 1592.

LUMBER DEMAND STILL EXCEEDS PRODUCTION

Lumber during the week ended Nov. 28, as reported by about three hundred of the larger softwood mills, was 14 per cent above production. Operations of southern pine mills are somewhat curtailed because of wet weather, and the inland Empire and California pine region are going into their winter period of low production, according to the American Lumberman, Chicago.

Developments in the southern states, especially Florida and along the Gulf coast, are consuming large quantities of lumber and drawing heavily on local producers as well as the shortleaf mills of Georgia and the Carolinas, and big cargoes of fir and redwood are being brought in through the Panama Canal.

Building is less active in the North and Northeast, though winter construction will be at a much higher level than usual. Northern retailers are making every effort to keep their stocks low until taxes are assessed, though some are attempting to buy at current prices for spring delivery.

Stocks of about seven hundred retail yards in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana were allowed to decline 15 per cent in October, and heavy further reduction have probably been made since. Stocks of over three hundred yards in Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado and Oklahoma declined only 1.2 per cent in October, probably because late harvests postponed building. October sales of the first group were 14 per cent larger, and of the second group 17.5 per cent larger, than October, 1924, totals, but in the Northwest the full tide of farm demand awaits spring.

Southern pine orders during the week ended Nov. 27, were 12 per cent above production, which was 82.4 per cent of normal, and shipments, largely to southern mills, exceeded cut by 26.42 per cent. Advances on much wanted items are noted. Douglas fir bookings were above twenty-five per cent under production, but the market is firm, because of plans for an extended Christmas shutdown of the mills, and business for future delivery at current prices will not be accepted. Florida demand for fir is good, and the middle West is buying more, and there has been a slight pick-up in California trade, but Atlantic coast business is light.

Business Is Delighted With President's Message

Babson Park, Mass.—Judging by the sigh of relief that went up from all business interests when Congress adjourned last March, one may naturally wonder whether the new session just begun will serve as a check or boost to business. This question was put to Roger W. Babson, who though far from being a politician, is close to Washington affairs. His answer is, emphatically, that as far as business is concerned, the next congress will be favorable and all the business interests are delighted with the President's message.

"Not only the administration," says Mr. Babson, "but more and more members of the two Houses of Congress are beginning to realize that by encouraging business they do most to help all classes, whether employers or employees, farmers or bankers. The 'blocks' activity of previous sessions got nowhere it was merely a fight over the division of wealth already produced. It did not help in producing more. The plans of the present administration are sound because they result in greater and more economical production and thus create more wealth to divide. The government today is putting its energy into saving the people's money and encouraging everybody who is really producing. Moreover, this plan is proving so successful that radical elements in Congress will have a hard time to arouse interest among their constituents in any serious change from this policy. This, continued Mr. Babson, "explains why business men are looking forward to this session of Congress with confidence."

Investors, on the other hand, who are now bullish on the stock market because of expected legislation are making a bad mistake. Stock prices usually discount events long before they occur and even before the public at large knows that they are coming. A year ago, when President Coolidge was elected, was the time for stock buyers to be bullish, and you will remember that I gave such advice in this column. Then the time for investors to anticipate the effect on the stock market of a constructive administration. Today, however, stocks have fully discounted favorable legislation and it is foolish to buy at current high prices.

"Corporate taxes are not likely to be lower next year, but the radical cut expected in surtax rates greatly reduces the penalty on production which has existed the last six years. Nothing so stifles enterprise as the thought that whatever happens one must give up a large share of his profits. Hence, from an inspirational standpoint lower tax rates are decidedly favorable to the business outlook. Lower taxes also, should be a great advantage to American producers in competition with manufacturers in England and European countries where government taxes are still very heavy. The new tax rates will make it profitable again for wealthy investors to put money into industrial development rather than into municipal extravaganzas. Every sensible business man and wage worker will use his influence to have the new tax law go through on the basis indicated by the Committee Report. Not only are the Administration supporters working for such a reduction, but the Democrats, if sensible, will go along with them. Perhaps the minority party might not be averse to such a reducing of taxes that they would have to be raised again, rather than lower them before the next presidential election."

"The Administration is firmly behind the proposition of railroad mergers, and soon or later, there will be some important mergers. It may be that certain roads affected will furnish some fireworks in the stock market before the year is ended. However, this does not mean that all railroad stocks will advance on the strength of advantageous mergers of a few individual lines. In fact, the public probably will lose more money than it will gain by trying to pick the roads that will profit. Investors must remember that any scheme to help the roads as a whole inevitably faces the demands of shippers for lower freight rates and most important of all the demands of railroad employees for more wages.

"Already railroad conductors and brakemen are negotiating to secure a restoration of war-time wage scales in renewing their agreement, which expires on January 1, 1926. While there appears to be no danger of a strike, yet it is very evident that labor is awake to the better position in which the railroads now find themselves and is determined to have a large share in these better times. We wonder, therefore, if from a stock market standpoint the prospects of railroad dividends probably are not brighter now than they will be later.

"So far as Congress is concerned, the railroads apparently have passed their greatest difficulties and popular feeling is more in favor of the roads than it has been for twenty years. Moreover, from a business standpoint there is every reason to expect excellent transportation service, which is a very important point in view of the current demand for quick deliveries and small order buying.

"For the past three administrations the United States shipping venture has been more or less a skeleton in the closet. While there is no intimation of scandal, nevertheless there is a very general opinion that the operations of the Shipping Board may not stand up well under a public investigation. President Coolidge has inherited most of the difficulties, but nevertheless it is likely that the Administration's opponents will endeavor to air the shortcomings of the Shipping Board during the coming months. I imagine that President Coolidge would like very much to get the Government out of the shipping business, although there are two distinct sides to the question, both worthy of very careful consideration.

"The two McPherson bills promise a very interesting fight some time during the coming session. In the first bill are two main points: (1) The question of whether branch banking, under certain restrictions, shall be allowed to expand and (2) whether national banks shall be allowed to loan on real estate under certain restrictions. The branch bank question is familiar to most readers. The question, however, of whether or not the national banks may loan on real estate mortgages is of greatest importance.

"Of course, as a matter of fact national banks already have a large amount of loans outstanding which really have been made for real estate purposes. By this we mean that depositors of good standing have borrowed on their personal notes to carry through real estate ventures. If, however, national banks were allowed now to lend even one-half of their time deposits on a straight real estate mortgage, it could greatly increase the amount of capital going into building. Whether or not such an extension of credit at this time would be wise is another question.

"From a labor standpoint the present coal crisis, of course, represents the immediate problem. A determined effort is on foot to obtain, before the coal strike is finally decided, some decisive progress along the lines laid down by the Coal Fuel-Finding Commission appointed by President Harding. So far the Administration policy continues to be 'hands off,' and this policy doubtless will be sustained by the senate, although legislation to deal with the coal situation will be introduced by both the operators and miners. The President, however, is interested in keeping the Government out of business and he will use his veto if necessary in order to hold to that program.

PIONEER SIGN PAINTER STILL IS IN BUSINESS

R. Ganzen Sign Service Has Been Serving Public for Half a Century

About 25 years ago quite a crowd of curious Appleton people gathered on N. Appleton-st. two blocks and a half north of College-ave to watch a sign painter working on the first picture sign ever painted in the city. The sign was painted by the R. Ganzen Sign Service, pioneer Appleton sign company, and was made for Matt Schmidt and Son. Since that time the R. Ganzen Sign service has made thousands of signs, and the increase in the concern's business has made necessary a change of location from the former quarters on W. Packard-st. to a larger down town shop on 315 W. College-ave. The change was made three weeks ago, and the Ganzen establishment is now in a position to turn out show cards, cloth signs of all descriptions, gold leaf window lettering, raised gold lettering, lighters, store front signs, and overhanging street signs.

The Ganzen Sign service has erected many bulletins along the highways of Outagamie and neighboring counties. The type of bulletin very popular at this time, and which never fails to attract attention is the deluxe style 10 by 20 feet in size.

These bulletins are periodically inspected by the Ganzen concern, and are kept looking neat and attractive. The greatest number of bulletins are to be found along the Neenah, Kaukauna and New London roads. Mr. Ganzen said that the new state law regarding the removal of billboard bulletins along the highways applied only to those signs that were on state property notably along the side of the road near the fences, and not to those signs that were put up on private property. During the summer months four men are employed at the Ganzen sign shop, some to construct the signs and bulletins, and others to painting them.

The largest raised gold letter sign in the city was constructed at the Ganzen shop for the Hotel Appleton, and is on the roof of the recent addition constructed for that hotel. The letters on this sign are five feet high. One of the largest electric signs in the city 100 feet long and 12 feet high was made for the Wahkiakum Oil Co. W. College-ave filling station. Hundreds of store front signs ranging from two to 50 feet in length have been turned out of the Ganzen shop for stores in the business section. Many overhanging street signs, some of them 12 feet in length have also been made. Many of the signs painted 20 years ago are still in good condition.

The R. Ganzen Sign service has been in the business of hanging signs for the last 25 years, and in all that time not one of the hundreds of overhanging signs has fallen to the sidewalk. One of the heaviest signs hung was the one in front of the Conway Hotel. This massive sign weighs over half a ton. The signs overhanging the streets must be very securely attached, and are fastened with a double cable. Mr. Ganzen stated that every city should have an ordinance compelling regular inspection of overhanging signs at least once every two years. He also stated that every sign hanger should carry liability insurance on the overhanging type to protect himself if the sign is blown down and kills or injures someone.

In addition to local jobs the R. Ganzen Sign service has done a considerable amount of work for the Thomas C. Clark Co. of Chicago, and the O. J. Clark Co. of New York; two of the largest outdoor advertising concerns in the world.

Mr. Ganzen believes that the profession of sign painting offers one of the highest fields of opportunity for young men. Sign painters in Milwaukee earn $12 for eight hours work, and in Chicago the pay is $15 for an eight hour day. It takes from four to five years to become a good sign painter, he said.

Kaukauna—The manual training department of the high school was in full swing yesterday, the new members in the high school auditorium. Preparations are being made to handle one of the largest crowds ever seen at a high school basketball game in this city when West Green Bay meets the local squad next Friday.

Although several men have been left to the team through inability, their loss will not be serious. Most of this year's squad are green men and have to learn the rudiments of the game. Although they are green men the all are good prospects and the coach will have a squad of at least 15 who can be called regulars. Besides the 15 "regulars" he will have about 10 good substitutes. It will be hard to give every man a chance this year because there are so many good prospects.

A practice game was held one night this week with the twenty-five man squad. The high school team and the high school men showed up well.

Kaukauna's first game with West Green Bay probably will be one of the hardest battles of the season.

SUFFERS DEATH LIFTING TIMBER NEAR CHILTON

William Weber Dies Instantly After Breaking Cerebral Blood Vessel

Chilton—William Weber of this city met death suddenly on Thursday afternoon while cutting timber on the farm of A. Bonlander. As he was lifting a piece of timber he stumbled and fell heavily to the ground, suffering a rupture of a cerebral blood vessel.

The decedent was born in Jericho in the year 1882, and in 1907 he was united in marriage to Miss Gruber, daughter of Michael Gruber. They resided on a farm near Jericho until about 10 years ago when they moved to Chilton, where the family has since made its home. Mrs. Weber preceded her husband in death seven years ago and one daughter died in the spring of this year.

There are four daughters surviving: Delphine, Viola, Selma, and Evelyn. He is also survived by his mother, a sister, Mrs. Koch, both of Jericho, and by several brothers.

The funeral will take place from the Catholic church in Jericho, with interment in the family lot in the village at 10 o'clock, Monday morning.

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE KEEPS THESE CHILDREN WELL ALL WINTER

I am glad to tell how Father John's Medicine helped our babies. In the spring they all had the whooping cough real hard, and all they took was Father John's Medicine. It sure helped to keep them looking well, and they didn't lose much sleep at night. It is a blessing, and we give it to the children in the winter. We always keep it on hand." (Signed) Thomas Barton, Monticello, Ohio.

It is such experiences as the above that have made Father John's Medicine the great success that it is. It has a history of over 70 years of proven value in treating colds, coughs and as a body-building tonic. Guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.

Woman Is Hurt When Harry
Ruin Car, Waupaca,
Leaves Highway

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca—An accident happened Thursday night to the occupants of a large sedan owned by Harry Ruvin and said to have been driven by him when control was lost in making the grade east of Holm's bridge on highways No. 54 and 27. In going up this grade, the car left the center of the road and is said to have torn away about 100 feet of guard rail on the left hand side. One post passed through the radiator, coming out beneath the hood. Another passed through the windshield and the left fore door was found about 40 feet from where it had been torn off. Any effort to repair the car would cost more than a new one, according to several mechanics. Mr. Ruvin escaped by being only badly shaken up. A woman companion received a fractured arm and was bruised about her body. She is at Christofferson hospital. Another couple whose identity could not be learned was unhurt.

For two hours Thursday Sheriff William Toepke and Deputy O. G. Anderson with the help of another, chased Harry Hyer of Clintonville. Hyer's mind had become deranged since the death of his mother two years ago and he had been in the habit of taking to the woods nearby, remaining for hours at a time and making it difficult for his associates to care for him. Thursday at the time the sheriff's force arrived he was in the woods of a cedar swamp, causing difficulty in the capture. Hyer is 28 years of age. He was brought to Waupaca and placed in the county jail awaiting orders of the ARRANGE SCOUT PLAY.

"Patty Makes Things Hum," a play and other novelty acts will be given by Chikagami camp fire girls at the high school auditorium Tuesday night Dec. 15. The merchants are financing the purchase of gifts, while the Lions have the tree in charge, which is located in the courtyard square alongside the bandstand.

STAGE And SCREEN

APPLETON THEATRE

"Four Queens and a Joker" is the name of a revue which will headline the vaudeville at Fischer's Appleton theatre next Saturday and Sunday and promise a "new deal" in the way of revues "with a pack of laughs." The playing card idea is further carried out in the advertising by the claim that, "enthusiasm runs wild" when the attraction is shown. Viola Howard and the Tew Sisters are prominent in the revue. Miss Howard is a well known act dancer. The Tew Sisters offer a military tap dance as their specialty. There are various other features including comic bits and a gypsy ensnared number.

Countess Von Dornum, an American woman who met her husband, Count Frederic Von Dornum while studying music in Berlin, will appear on the same bill. She is known as the "Tetrazina of Modern Song" and is prominent in concert operatic and vaudeville lines of musical endeavor. Her romance with Count Von Dornum was short lived for he was killed in the war. She was an American girl for many years before becoming a German countess.

Arthur Day and Rose Collins will offer a travesty, "Why Walk" in which the ancient motor car figures for laughing purposes.

Bert Byron and Venzia Noblet will be seen in "An Everyday Occurrence" a skit by the late Junie McCree in which they represent themselves as guests who meet in the hallway of a hotel. There is great comedy and some special songs.

Also feature photoplay "Without Mercy" starring Vera Reynolds.

VIVID ROMANCE FINELY ACTED BY GREAT CAST
When "Women and Gold" comes to the New Bijou Theatre Monday and Tuesday it will present an all-star cast that includes such big favorites as Frank Mayo, Sylvia Breamer, William Davidson, Frankie Darro, Iris Anson, Tom Crow, James Oliver and John T. Prince.

"Women and Gold" tells the story of an apparently happily married couple, Dan Barclay and his wife Myra are devoted to each other and to their youngster, Dan Barclay, Jr. Then comes the financial blow and Dan is forced to accept a position in South America. His wife goes with him but soon tires of the monotonous existence and when Senor Esperanza comes into her life, things began to happen fast.

The scenes of "Women and Gold" are laid in Paris, South America, New York and a number of European capitals and besides a strong love story and thrilling scenes, there is suspense and romance interwoven in the plot.

NOTED CAST IN "WHY WOMEN LOVE"

"Why women love" the first of a series of features which Blanche Sweet has contracted to make for First National Pictures, Inc. is to be the offering at the Elite Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture is an adaptation of Willard Robertson's fa-

"WHERE WAS I?"

There is a world of real humor in "Where Was I?" the Universal-Jewel starring Reginald Denny showing at the Elite Theatre today and Sunday. There is also an unusual story with wonderful opportunities for the manufacturing of laughs. William Seiter, director, has turned out a finished product, according to those who have seen this riotous Denny-drama. Chester Conklin, Lee Moran, Olan Harrn, Pauline Garon, Marion Nixon, William Turner, Tom Lingham, Arthur Lake and James Corrigan, all contribute to the general comedy of the piece. The story concerns the troubles of a young man trying to find out where he was on a certain date. Lee Moran and Chester Conklin, two of the screen's funniest comedians are ones who help him on the search. Miss Garon plays the part of a lady plotter and Miss Nixon has the role of Denny's sweetheart.

The Essence of Our Duty

To give the same care afterwards that was given before — to perform the necessary tasks with just such gentleness and thoughtfulness as the bereaved themselves would perform if they could—that, we feel, is the es-engage our services.

It is a sacred trust, and we accept it with a very real sense of our respon-

Corporal Archie Atherton of the naval air station at San Diego, Calif., doesn't care what he does. This photo was taken as he leaped from an airplane 3000 feet above the Pacific. He didn't open his parachute until he had fallen 1200 feet, and he fell in the ocean where he was picked up by a boat.

FATHERS SHOULD BE PALS OF SONS, LEVITAN URGES

State Treasurer Is Chief
Speaker at Dad and Son
Banquet at Evangelical Church

"There is no father who would not give a year or two of his life if necessary," declared Solomon Levitan, state treasurer, in an address at the annual Father and Son banquet at the Emmanuel Evangelical church Friday evening at the church. Mr. Levitan said it takes only a little bit of understanding to make pals of fathers and sons, but that too often sons are afraid of their fathers, or look upon them with suspicion and distrust, thinking them to be old fogies entirely out of step with the present generation. Fathers on the other hand just as often fail to understand their boys, and think them hopeless young scamps full of a lot of new-fangled notions that are no good at all.

Few boys realize that every father sees in his boy the opportunity to live his life over, and he hopes and plans that the son may have the advantages and opportunities that he has dreamed of for himself, but never has had a chance to realize.

Probably every boy would rather take his problems, hopes, and dreams to his father than to anyone else, if he were only sure that father would understand and would not laugh at them and think them foolish, declared Mr. Levitan. To many boys, father occupies only the position of the stern judge whose word is law, and who is so wrapped up in his work or business that he has no time to play with his boys.

"Companionship of father and son is a priceless thing that cannot be had for the asking," said Mr. Levitan.

Both father and son must do their part to make it possible. Fathers must keep with their boys, as they are only overgrown boys after all, and the boys, on the other hand, can do their share if they will play fair with their fathers, and take them into their confidence, as there is nothing that will make a father warm up faster than to have his son tell him of his problems and plans. When that kind of mutual confidence and understanding can be built up between father and son, it brings one of the finest experiences in life, one worth any sacrifice to attain," concluded Mr. Levitan.

About 90 men and boys attended the banquet and heard Mr. Levitan's speech. The Rev. H. A. Bernhardt was toastmaster, and the invocation was given by the Rev. C. F. Rabold, presiding elder of the Appleton district. Special music was furnished by the Polan Mandolin orchestra, and the Evangelical male quartet.

LAST TRAINING SESSION SUNDAY

Boy Work Leaders Hear Address on Recreation Methods for Groups

Elementary group games were taught by E. M. Miller, municipal recreational director of Menasha, at the boy leaders' training course at Green Bay Friday evening. The closing session of the course conducted by Valley council, Boy Scouts of America will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Columbus Community club Green Bay, to take up juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Miller first gave a talk concerning the National Playground and Recreation association and the work it does. The games he taught afterward were those which are easy to organize and require no special equipment except the material right at hand. They were activities from which other games could be built up.

The evening closed with a tender foot examination for the "boy scouts." The men had been organized into scout patrols and were taking the training which they later will give boys. Most of them passed their tests satisfactorily and were classed as tenderfoots. Illness will prevent Judge William N. Martin of Waupaca, from speaking at the Sunday afternoon session of the training class. Some other judge who is familiar with juvenile delinquency will be obtained to take his place.

Home Coming Concert of

APPLETON'S OWN — NEW QUEEN OF SONG

Here's what George Stansbury says of Mme. Meluis in her sensational Chicago debut —

It was my good fortune to be numbered with the capacity audience which greeted Luella Meluis on the occasion of her recent initial appearance with the Chicago Opera Company in the production of "Rigoletto." The enthusiastic and prolonged applause of the host of listeners, their breathless attention through the performance, the many insistent curtain calls and the uniformly commendatory reviews of the musical critics on the following day signified the wonder of the event which was paid this great artist.

The wit and grace of her song is irresistible. Not for an instant could I doubt that I was listening to one of the world's greatest coloratura sopranos.

Luella Chilson possesses the natural gift of a voice of remarkable beauty, purity, warmth and clarity of tone.

Appleton is indeed favored in having Mme. Meluis singing her first concert in America since the Chicago debut and I personally regret very deeply my inability to be there, for I can imagine no greater thrill or treat for those who love good music—for she sings as one inspired. Appleton should be proud to do honor to this world famous artist.

COUNCIL VOTES TO HIRE STATE TO BUILD BRIDGES

Entire Construction Project
Will Be Under Supervision of Highway Engineers

Menasha -- State engineers will prepare plans for and superintend the construction of the three cement bridges to be built over Fox river on highway 15. This was unanimously decided Friday evening at a meeting of the city council. Construction of the two temporary bridges also will be under supervision of the state. Although the state is building only the largest of the three cement structures and the city the other two, all construction work will be taken care of by the state.

The three bridges will be of the same design and constructed of same material.

When the contracts are awarded they will be given for the three so that the same contractor will do all the work.

The state highway commission will be notified of the action of the council and will be requested to arrange to take care of the work.

The city will rent land on Water-st. where the temporary bridge will connect with Church-st. and it will serve notice on the railway companies of its intention to cross their side tracks.

The temporary bridge, according to state engineers, will be built of piling and cribs and will have a 20 foot roadway to accommodate two-way traffic. A side walk will be built along both sides for pedestrians.

Loads of over seven tons will not be allowed to cross the structure but will be detoured around on highway 151. The fire truck weighs over seven tons and will not be able to cross the bridge, so arrangements are to be made with the city of Menasha to take care of fires occurring in the northern part of the city.

Twin City
Deaths

CHESTER E. W. FELCH

Menasha -- Chester E. W. Felch, 82, civil war veteran who had been critically ill for more than a week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Egan, 320 Chute-st., with whom he had made his home for several years, died at 1:30 Friday evening. The funeral will be held at 9:30 Monday morning at St. Patrick church and will be in charge of the Henry T. Lenz post of the American legion. The services will be conducted by the Rev. G. A. DISMANTLE DOTY CABIN
SO IT CAN BE MOVED

Menasha -- Work of dismantling of the Gov. Doty log cabin preparatory to moving it from its original location on the John Strunge estate, to its permanent site in the new Doty Island park, has been started by Brown Construction Co.

In order to remove the building, which was the abode of first governor of Wisconsin, it was found necessary to cut out the stone fireplace which was one of the features of the building. This, however, will be replaced to its original place when the building is finally settled in the park.

While exploring the attic of the loggery Friday afternoon, a woman's boot, thought to be many years old and perhaps the property of the first governor's family, was found. It will be preserved as a relic.

GRANGE WANTS
BUTTER TARIFF

Asks Coolidge to Put Duty of
4 Cents a Pound on Butter
Imported from Abroad

Neenah -- President Coolidge was asked by petition by Wisconsin state Grange, in its closing meeting here, to use his authority to apply an emergency tariff of 4 cents a pound on butter for purpose of stabilizing the dairy industry.

The petition sent to the president states that dairymen have suffered serious losses during the last few years due to the great differences in cost of production in America and abroad. Competition of imported butter and the influence of the lower priced foreign product on prices in America have tended to force the sale of domestic butter below price of production.

An effort will also be made to have a course of farm accounting introduced in the agriculture courses in high schools in the state.

3 CONGRESSMEN URGE SURVEY OF FLOOD CONTROL

Schneider, Lampert and Brown Urge Study of High
Water in Wolf River Valley

A government survey to find a method to control floods in the Wolf river valley which annually cause great losses to riparian owners from Lake Koshong to Shawano dam, probably will be the outcome of a meeting of representatives of the Association for the Relief of High Water and members of the Wisconsin congressional delegation with members of the board of army engineers in the office of the chief of engineers last week at Washington. D. C. Congressman George Schneider of this city was one of the three members of congress who support the petition for a survey. Others were Congress Florian Lampert of Oshkosh and Edward E. Brown of Waupaca. Senator Irvine Lenroot presided at the hearing. Five United States engineers were detailed by Major General Taylor Taylor to attend the hearing and these included Majors Young Crosby and Hobbs. The delegation from Wisconsin at the hearing included Allen H. Tripp, Oshkosh, president of the Association for the Relief of High Water; Mayor D. D. Haennel, Fond du Lac; George Williams of Oshkosh; McLennan Dodge, Madison; C. H. Zeman, assistant state drainage engineer, representing the state of Wisconsin.

Although the organization which demanded the hearing is made up of riparian farmers, a survey is wanted by fishermen, navigation interests, and muskrat trappers. Because the district army engineer at Milwaukee had refused to recommend a survey of the area, the hearing at Washington was in the nature of an appeal. The delegation explained to the engineers that a survey should be ordered to find a method of restoring to the farmers of the Wolf river valley thousands of acres of land that flooded each year, to restore the navigation of the water power interest, and to guard the rights of owners of muskrat swamps and shore property, to save countless numbers of wild duck nests and thousands of young muskrats which are drowned, and to save millions of fish which die trapped in shallow water pockets as the water recedes.

FIGHT DOESN'T AFFECT TAX LEVY

Appleton Taxes Will Be Paid
as Usual Despite Move for Appeal

Appeal to the Wisconsin tax commission by county board members for a revision of the tax commission equalization will have no effect on the payment of taxes here next month. The levies as they are now prepared will stand.

It probably will be several months before the difference between the city of Appleton and the county will be worked out. If Appleton's assessed valuation is lowered from the figure adopted by the county board at its recent session, the tax levies here will be refunded a proportionate amount when the levies for the year 1924 are made. Any increase which might result also would be treated in the same way.

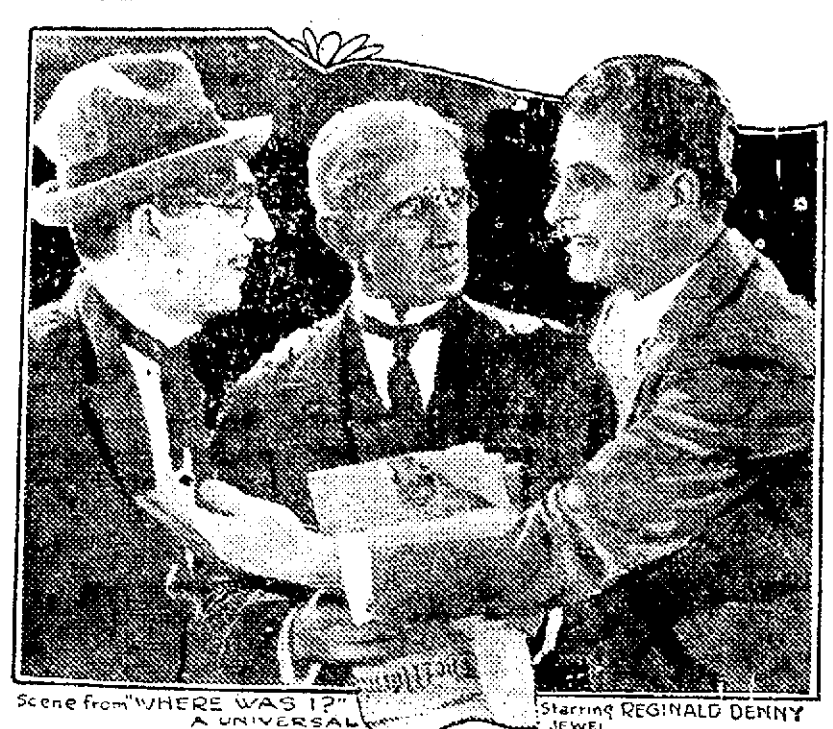

It is said that the city's defense in the fight started by supervisors for equalization will depend largely on the tax commission's status. If a hearing is called and it is found that the commission has approved the assessments and equalization prepared by Leo Toonen, county assessor of this county, the hearing will be waived and the matter taken into circuit court. The commission otherwise would be passing on something which already had been given its approval. The court cannot enter a revision of the figures but would be asked to decide whether the equalization was fair and can order that it stand thus or be thrown out. In case of the latter decision the county will be in the status of having no equalization at all and a new one will have to be made.

APPLETON HAS CHANCE TO WIN CHEST CLINIC

Appleton has a chance to get one of 25 free chest clinics to be awarded by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association to communities in Wisconsin having the highest per capita sale of Christmas seals this year. Four of the clinics will go to towns having local tuberculosis associations and other 21 to communities that have no local organization. Appleton already has a free chest clinic under the auspices of the state association, and sponsored by the Appleton Women's club. The clinic is held the first Saturday of each month at the women's club rooms.

Towns over 20,000 population which already have a local association, and which have the highest per capita seal sale will be awarded a six day clinic with two examining physicians.

COOPERSTOWN ROAD IS IMPROVED NEXT YEAR

Several important road and bridge construction projects are on the 1924 highway program for this part of the state, as announced by G. H. Gustin, chief engineer of the state highway divisional engineering office at Green Bay.

Among the improvements is a six-mile gravel surfacing job on state highway 16 near Cooperstown. It removes a number of sharp turns and smooths out several steep grades and rough surfaces.

Another project is the new bridge over the Fox river at Neenah. It is really a series of three bridges over the river and industrial canals. One will be about 300 feet long and the other two about 100 feet. All three will be of steel structure.

Shawano-co which last year graded four miles of highway 26 will start grading it next spring.

The marking and signing program will be an important task next year.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Traveler Clock's Story

"While we are cleaning you out and fixing you up, can't you tell us the story of your travels?" asked Tick Tock the clock fairy.

"Well," said the little clock who was all brass and glass when he didn't have his leather jacket on, "since you are so kind and accommodating, I will tell you as much as I can remember. What would you like to hear about first?"

"About the sea," said Nick.

"As to that," said the little clock, "a ship's clock could tell you more. When I am on the sea, I am usually shut up tight in my leather case and down inside of a trunk that is down in the dark hold of the ship. That's a sort of cellar. All I can tell you about the sea is that sometimes I nearly turn inside out when it is rough, and I am always thankful when we land in some country or other and I am taken out."

"When you have been," said Nancy.

"All right," said the clock, "I'll tell you about Egypt. Once my master took me to Egypt. I didn't know where I was until he took me on a table beside a big wide window.

"It gave me quite a start to see camels outside and people riding them. Also little donkeys with donkey-boys running behind and twisting their tails to make them go. Poor things! I nearly fell off the table. I was so mad, and my master caught me just in time."

"What else did you see?" asked Nick.

"Well, there was a great wide river. I learned that it was called the Nile. And across the river were great pointed things that looked like tents. I thought with all the camels and donkeys and tents and queer things, and queer people walking around in queer clothes, that we must have struck a circus. But circus nothing! It was the city of Cairo we were in, and the tent things I found out afterwards were called Pyramids. They were built of solid stone and thousands of years old. Some old kings built them. I'll bet you they cost a lot, stone being so dear 'n' everything."

"Tick Tock laughed and so did the Twins.

"What else did you see?" asked Nancy.

"Greedy," said the little clock, "I'm talking so fast now I'm stuttering. Just wait till I finish. There were lots of things. The river was covered with gay boats of all kinds. Some had bright awnings to keep the sun off the passengers. They were called dahabiyehs. There were people from all over the world there, going back and forth all the time. It was very gay."

"Is that all?" asked Nick this time.

"Greedy," sputtered the clock, "of course not. There were big pink birds with long legs and red bills, that built nests of mud in the river. Some of the nests were as high and as round as chimneys. They were called flamingoes, the birds were."

"Is that all," asked Tick Tock with a grin.

"Greedy," said the clock.

I moved somewhat restlessly. I had not expected that Merville Sarcus would be so confidential. I do not know what I expected. Little Mar-quis, but I only knew what he was saying and the way he was saying it was a great surprise to me.

"You needn't be afraid of me, Leslie. I'm not going to say anything to you that will make you uncomfortable." (He did not seem at all aware that he had used my first name twice. It was done so naturally and so impersonally that I could hardly remind him of it. If I did it would almost seem as though I had attributed to it something more than he had intended.)

We both were silent for a moment watching the moon that was just coming up over the tops of the tall buildings across from us.

Showing a great improvement in play over the previous loop games, Basing's Sports, Appleton's entry in the Interstate 190 cage loop, lost a heart-breaking battle to Doc Delmore's Two Rivers American Legion squad at 28-21. The game was the most exciting seen in the Two Rivers Opera House this year, especially in the last quarter when the Appleton squad staged a great rally which had the Delmore's worried and caused them to stall whenever possible.

Appleton used practically the same lineup as in previous games, and with the possible addition of Basing, this crew probably will represent the locals the remainder of the season. They had just got started working together in the final half promises to give any team in the loop a hard battle, especially here. Two Rivers and Oconto, conqueror of Appleton Thursday night, should be easy victims here.

Kotal is in Florida while Wilkins and Norton will have a bad leg as the result of his grid work with the Packers last night. The new lineup possibly looked as good as the other Friday night and Appleton fans will see a real squad in action this year. McAuliffe was the big star of the fray, scoring six baskets and three free throws and losing many more on foul breaks. His floor work was excellent. Scheurle and Christoph carried a pair of fighting guards who were not back on defense. Ole Renshaw, a new man, held down his forward in good style in his first work with his new mates and won the job permanently. Rushey, the other forward, played a nice game, ending three of the prettiest ringers seen on the Two Rivers floor in the last half rally and all three in a row.

"Red" Weston started for Two Rivers with five neat markers. His mates aided him materially. The Rivermen displayed a well-rounded squad which will give any equal trouble, especially at Two Rivers. Appleton started slow and it took them some time to get used to the Rivers court. The first quarter ending 6-5 and the half 18-13. In the second half Appleton came back and held Two Rivers to 10 points while scoring 15 for themselves. But the rally was a little too short to overcome the first-half lead. The third quarter ended 26-16 when Two Rivers again slightly outplayed the local squad. In the last quarter, Appleton dropped four tries while the Rivermen scored one, advancing the score to 28-22 with three minutes to play. Delmore got his teams only marker. Here Two Rivers started a clever stalling game and the best Appleton could do was a neat marker by Rushey in the final two minutes.

SHEBOYGAN WHIPS FONDY

Sheboygan defeated Fond du Lac 43-23 in an interstate basketball game here Friday evening. McKimley started for the visitors by his basket shooting making every one he shot for and Morris for Sheboygan by his general floor work. It was a hard-fought game. Fond du Lac leading 20-17 at the end of the first half. Here Kell Murray Fondy's big star was injured and had to leave the game, and Fondy but a slump. Up to the time of retiring he had been starting for the visitors.

ARMY WON ALL 3 OF ITS WESTERN TILTS

New York—West Point did well in three intersectional games with midwestern teams during the 1925 gridiron season.

It not only handed Notre Dame one of the worst trouncings it Rockne coached team ever received, but it also whipped University of Detroit and St. Louis without much trouble. In the three tilts the cadets scored 77 points to 6 for the opposition. Detroit counting the lone tally in the opening clash of the campaign.

SISLER SAYS BROWNS WILL BE CONTENDERS

St. Louis—What are the chances of the Browns to be permanent contenders in the American League next year?

Manager George Sisler thinks they are excellent. He figures it is largely up to two of his pitchers, Milt Gaston and "Lefty" Gard. Sisler regards them as the two best prospects in the league. Gaston is a right hander. Gard a southpaw as the name "Lefty" implies.

Gard and Gaston came to the Browns as the "to beat" part of the deal that called for the trading of Urban Shocker to New York for Joe Bush.

On the results of last year, it stands out as one of the best baseball transactions made in years as far as the St. Louis club is concerned. Each one of the three pitchers acquired by the Browns proved more useful than Shocker was to New York.

BUTTERNUTS IN SLIGHT LEAD IN ELK PIN LEAGUE

The Doughnuts, W. Schultz's gang of howling bowlers stopped the Brazlnuts for three straight falls Friday night on the Elk alleys. E. Gee was high with 558.

The Walnuts took three from the Hazelnuts and made a three-team tie for second place. The Butternuts, now leading, still retain their lead but have a postponed game to bowl with the Walnuts.

Dr. O'Keefe had high score for the week with 822 and also holds high series for the 22nd and 536.

The most interesting and the gathering is crowded with fans each week as the teams take the drives.

The Lavenuts lost 2 of 3 games bowled to the Cocoanuts.

A Griznacher with a total of 539 being high for the winners. Marx with 518 was second high for the Lavenuts. The streak of rough going has not ceased for this aggregation of pin smashers and they are apparently ahead the toboggan and sliding fast.

The Chestnuts rolled for three straight falls by pin bowling. The Maplenuts scored twice from the Beechnuts and the Butternuts took the Hickorynuts into camp for two wins.

PAUL HOLDS HIS TITLE IN RING ERNIE NEVERS TO PLAY ON PRO GRID

Classy Lightweight Champ Wins Over Delaney. Former Conqueror, in Sensational Go

New York (AP)—The world's lightweight ring championship crown still rests on the head of Paul Benicbach, after a fiercely contested 15 round battle Friday night with the man who knocked him out in four rounds less than two years ago. Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., was several times within reach of another sensational triumph over the Astoria, N. Y. titleholder before the 23,000 spectators in the new Madison Square Garden. But at the points when an aggressive attack would seemingly have won the champion to decisive defeat, Delaney hesitated and waited to his sorrow.

Benicbach was floored for a count of three in the fourth and punched groggy in the sixth and seventh. Benicbach closed in the last six rounds with a stirring rally which saved him. The tie was wrested from Mike McGuire by Benicbach.

His parents are elderly and reside on a ranch a short distance from Santa Rosa, California.

With Nevers on the Jacksonville team, the Examiner says, will be Jim Thorpe, of Carlisle Indian fame, Ed Weir, the star tackle of Nebraska, "Red" Roberts, former end of Center College and many others.

Nevers will leave San Francisco Dec. 12 for Jacksonville.

FISH MAKE FISH OF FISHEATER QUINTET

The Fish made fish out of the Fishers Thursday evening at Eagles alleys in the second of a two-match series copying three straight games by 287 pins. The Fish lost the first match. Next week the deciding match will be bowled for the championship of the funny tribe, and to decide who the big fish really are. A. Schiltz of the Fish ran up high series of the evening with a 612, including two games of 233 and 214. Johnson of the Fish-enters had a 236 for high game score, the only 200 mark of his team. Other double century killings went to Ed Kositzke with a 225, and O. Kuntz with a 223. Both men are Fish.

Coach Of Fighting Irish Has Eight Years Left On Contract, President Says

Knute Will Receive Salary of More Than $15,000 Annually, According to New Offer

Philadelphia, Pa. (AP)—J. M. Byrne, New York, eastern representative of Notre Dame university said here Saturday that Knute Rockne will remain at Notre Dame and will not go to Columbia university. Rockne left for New York City early Saturday, Byrne said. The Notre Dame coach had come to Philadelphia to see the four horseman combination play the Pottsville football team at Shiloh park Saturday.

New York (AP)—Columbia university announces that Knute Rockne, famous for eight years as leader of great football machines at Notre Dame, has signed a three year contract as coach here.

Football authorities at Notre Dame, however, say that Rockne has assured them he has not signed with Columbia and will continue to coach at Notre Dame.

Father Matthew Walsh, President of Notre Dame, said early Saturday morning at South Bend, Ind., that Rockne had telephoned him from Philadelphia to deny positively the announcement that he had signed with Columbia early Friday evening.

Announcement of completion of negotiations between Rockne and Columbia came so unexpectedly to both east and midwest that even Columbia students at first were inclined to discredit the report. Rockne's 10-year contract with Notre Dame still has eight years to run. Father Walsh said.

Columbia officials declined information regarding the salary Rockne would receive, but mention was called to the fact that the late Perry D. Huntington, former Princeton member, signed a contract two years ago for $15,000 annually. Rockne was mentioned at that time for the place but was not available.

If the Columbia announcement is accurate Rockne will succeed a former teammate when he comes east early next spring. The retiring head coach at Columbia, Charles F. Crowley, and Rockne played end positions on the Notre Dame eleven of 1911 and 1912.

In his eight years of coaching at Notre Dame, Rockne's team won 65 games and lost but 6. The team achieved his greatest fame last year when his "Four Horsemen" swept through the midwest and east to the national championship.

RED GRANGE CAN'T PLAY IN DETROIT

Detroit (AP)—Harold Grange, Auburn thatched football star, will not play with the Chicago Bears when they meet the Detroit professional football team in the city tonight. Grange is more than 100 pounds overweight and will not even show himself to the crowd in his uniform with the famous "77" on it.

Instead, the former Illinois star will sit on the sidelines in civilian clothes and watch his team mates with his arm tied up in splints.

Grange arrived Friday night with the Chicago team from Pittsburgh and immediately went to a bachelor hotel where he asked the house physician to examine his arm. After the examination the physician announced that a blood clot had formed and that unless the injured member was given careful care there was danger of it traveling through the system. If the blood clot should travel near the heart, he said, it was impossible to say what complication might develop.

APPRENTICES SWEEP UP SWEEPER PINMEN

Apprentices of Appleton Wire Works were more than a match for the Sweepers bowling crew Thursday evening on the Eagle alleys, sweeping them up in two out of three games for a total pin lead of 158 sticks. H. Brueggeman of the winners was the star of the match shooting 235 for high game and 539 for high series. His game mark was the only 200 record of the match. H. Kositzke was high for the losers with a 481 series.

ARMY STORE QUINT TRIMS OLDS PINMEN

Appleton Army store quint trimmed the Olds bowling quint Friday evening on the Eagle alleys, taking two out of three games for a high game mark of 539 for the winners and a 481 series score. BADGER TANKMEN HAVE HARD YEAR

At Least Six, Probably Nine Dura! Meets Will Greet Coach Joe Steinhauer's Fish

Madison (AP)—Swimmers of the University of Wisconsin are preparing for six and possibly nine meets which will be on the schedule for the coming season.

Coach Joe Steinhauer has been drilling his men in the university tank for several weeks, as a result of which a number of prospective stars have been developed. Hershberger, Chicago, and Ratcliffe, Madison, are the mainstays, both being capable dash men, while Ratcliffe is among the star divers. Wheatley, Winnetka, Ill., and Simpkins, Madison, are among the divers, and Vinson, Milwaukee; Dunlap, Dallas, Tex.; Bach, Milwaukee and Frazier, Manitowish, are good for points in the sprints.

Alanne, Superior, and Ray, La Crosse, are among the leading back stroke candidates. The breast stroke crew include Abendroth, Milwaukee; Gorden, Madison, and Kratz, Louisville, Ky.

Crack Basketball Team Whips
Wrightstown to Tune of 30 to 12 Tuesday Night

Special to Post-Crescent
Weyauwega - The basketball game between Wrightstown and the local city team played in the gymnasium of the high school on Tuesday evening was a complete walk over the score being 30 to 12 in favor of the local team.

Weyauwega's "crack" team this season is almost entirely composed of seniors of various reputations. A few years ago a team here composed of nearly all the same players played a team from Denver, Colo. and New York team and the "Bright Stars" of Milwaukee. Pope and Will have been on professional teams at different times.

The preliminary game Tuesday evening was between the alumni and a team made up of high school boys. The score was 10 to 8 in favor of the latter. A large crowd witnessed the games.

MAILING INSTRUCTIONS GO TO POSTAL PATRONS

Notices bearing directions for wrapping and mailing Christmas parcels, as well as a reminder to shop and mail early, have been placed in all rural and city mail boxes by William H. Zuehlke, postmaster.

Shop and mail early to Christmas is the plea at the top of the notice. Underneath this statement are such directions as: Place a 2-cent stamp on each Christmas and New Year's card, wrap parcels securely, address mail plainly and include street and number, place your name and address on all mail to prevent its going to the dead letter office. In parcels Christmas seals stand for health and so do these two Wisconsin lassies, as you can tell by looking at them. They are Irene Kubesch and Lorraine Newk, boosting the Christmas seals campaign. Irene is pointing to the "I" and she says it doesn't mean anybody else. If every one depends on the other fellow she says nobody will be left to buy—a pretty good argument. So get your seals today or pay for them if they have been mailed to your home. The sale in the postoffice opens Saturday.

RESTRICT PARCEL POST DELIVERIES TO CUBA

A number of articles which may not be mailed as parcel post to Cuba have been announced by W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general, in communication to the Appleton postoffice. The restricted articles may be sent as registered matter, however, provided they are sealed and the letter rate of postage is paid.

The list includes: precious stones, mounted or unmounted, valuable jewelry, such as rings, brooches, the pins, chains, cuff links, dress sets, fobs, bracelets, lockets, necklaces, etc., all insured against loss or damage, mail parcels may be mailed "not to be opened until Christmas." Announcement is made that there will be no delivery of mail on Christmas Day and the postoffice will be closed all day.

articles of gold or other precious metal for personal use, such as cigarette holders, cigar cases, vanity cases, card cases, lognettes, mesh bags, watches, gold scrap, jeweler's fillings, money packets which are construed as including bank notes, coin, bullion, gold dust, bonds, and coupons payable to bearer, stocks and other securities negotiable by bearer.

Commencing Jan. 1, the rate of postage on parcel post packages for Cuba will be 14 cents a pound or fraction thereof plus the registry fee in the case of registered parcels, which postage and registry fee must be fully prepaid before the parcels are dispatched from the postoffice of mailing. All parcels must be sealed with wax, adhesive tape, or in some other acceptable manner, but in the country of destination they may be opened by customs officers for examination.

Parcels mailed in Cuba on and after Jan. 1 will also be subject to delivery to addresses in the United States

EXCITED WOMAN TURNS IN FALSE FIRE ALARM

The fire department responded to a false alarm Friday afternoon. The call was received at about 5 o'clock from the 1800 block on S. Jefferson-st., but when the department arrived no fire could be discovered, and nobody seemed to know anything about the alarm. A woman, apparently excited, called the department. It is thought she became frightened by smoke from a stove or furnace, turned in the alarm and then discovered her fears were unfounded.

Young Women Who Paid
Part Down on Orders Victimized by Salesman

Several young women working in downtown offices are alleged to have been victimized by a canvasser who took orders for Christmas postcards, accepting a deposit on account. Attention of the police department and the chamber of commerce has been called to the matter and these officials warn the public against giving orders to strangers if money is required in advance.

Three cases have come to light and it is believed others also placed orders and gave the man money. He was selling Christmas greeting cards, writing cards and personal stationery. One young woman paid him $1.75 in full for her order and another is known to have given him $5 to apply on account, the remainder to be paid on delivery.

This individual introduced himself as A. H. Rich. He carried a salesman's order book which had no firm name imprinted. The name of the concern was written in each time. The purchaser was given a sales slip as an acknowledgment and receipt and the solicitor kept the carbon copy. In one instance he wrote in the firm name of "J. J. Jackson Printing Co., 1622 Main-st., Milwaukee." Another slip bore the name of "L. L. Peck Co."

An inquiry was addressed to the vigilance bureau of the Association of Commerce, Milwaukee, by the chamber of commerce here and the reply bore the information that no such firms are listed in Milwaukee and that the city has no "Main-st."

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

Show her you really do care

Home, the scene of your leisure, is the workshop of an industrious, conscientious woman who takes great pride in keeping it clean, inviting, "home-like."

How is she equipped for her tasks? Is she still compelled to take up heavy rugs and carpets, periodically, and beat them, or send them out to be cleaned?

Must she continue to wield a broom monotonously back and forth, week after week, in an almost fruitless effort to keep down the dirt?

It's to your interest to see that she has all the advantages other women have—all that can reasonably be provided her. Show her, this Christmas, that you really do care.

Make your gift a Hoover that she may keep her rugs beaten, swept and cleaned electrically, easily and quickly, and your thoughtfulness will be in her mind years after the day has been forgotten.
